

Thanks!

Michelle would like to take this opportunity to thank those of you who have been so supportive of her and her work in the past. None of this would be possible without your prayerful support.

Matthew 28:19-20...

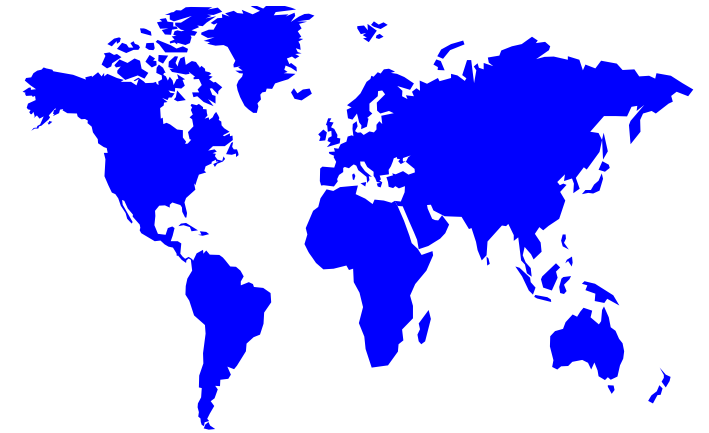

“Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age.”

Please help fulfill the great commission by committing to:

- Pray daily for each of these works
- Join Michelle on a campaign or visit to one of these locations
- Financially support Michelle and her work
- Reach out to the people in your own community

Michelle's direct involvement in missions began with her first campaign to Maracay, Venezuela, in the summer of 1996. From that time on, Michelle has used her Spanish and shown her love for the lost wherever the work has carried her. The following are brief descriptions of what Michelle has been involved in and plans for the near future.

Atlanta, Georgia

After graduating from Harding University, Michelle lived in Atlanta for a year and a half, working as the assistant to the director of foreign missions. This provided her with the opportunity to work in many places she would not have otherwise visited.

While there, Michelle began a single ladies' Bible study, taught Spanish class, and conducted several one-on-one Bible studies. Michelle has continued to communicate with the ladies' Bible study and some of the personal studies.

Almaty, Kazakhstan

For two years now, the North Atlanta Church of Christ has conducted a youth camp in the capital city of Almaty. Michelle co-directed this camp last summer and will be participating again summer 2001. Working with Muslims was a new experience, but a challenge Michelle welcomed and felt strengthened her own faith.

Caracas, Venezuela

March 2001 will be Michelle's second visit to the El Silencio congregation to conduct a women's conference. This provides an opportunity to encourage the Venezuelans and share with them the knowledge and experience of some of our very talented ladies from the States.

Valera, Venezuela

Michelle visited Valera twice in 2000 and will be returning to work there again in June 2001. This is a new work, begun with the help of campaigns from Harding University. Jose and Nery Pineda are working hard to keep up with the tremendous growth of the local congregation.

Cozumel, Mexico

Phil and Donna Waldron have been working with this congregation for two and a half years. Michelle joined Phil and others in the first campaign to this island three years ago. Since that time, the church has built a new building and now has 120 worshipping there on Sundays. Michelle has coordinated three later campaigns to Cozumel.

Irkutsk, Russia

The Matteson family has worked in Irkutsk, Russia, for about two years after working in Barnaul, Russia, for three years. Michelle was able to visit and encourage them for the month of April 2000. She was also able to guest lecture in their Bible-English classes and conduct several ladies' Bible studies and one-on-one studies.

Bogotá, Colombia

While at Harding, about 10 students made plans to form a team targeting Bogotá as a city in need of the gospel. In light of the current political situation, they saw it best to delay their plans and work elsewhere. Since first catching that dream, Michelle has been to Bogota three times, most recently in March 2001 when she was able to participate in the one-year anniversary celebration. Her father, David Goff was able to join her November 2000, a blessing to both of them, and to the church.

Rafael and Sonia Valderrama diligently testify to the hope and peace Christ offers to this troubled country in a troubled time.

Denver, Colorado

Since plans did not work out to form a team to Bogotá, Colombia, in the near future, several of those team members began to look at various needs elsewhere. A church-planting in south Denver provided an opportunity to help start an English-speaking congregation in the fastest growing county in the U.S. and also to initiate a Spanish work in metro Denver, a place where there was no existing Spanish work.

The Church of Christ in Douglas County and the Iglesia de Cristo congregation in Denver are growing and have recently moved into new facilities since they have outgrown the first.

The Future

A portion of the team of workers in Denver still has plans to move to a Spanish-speaking country to work full-time within the next two or three years.
